Accreditation

Washington State Board of Education

Northwest Association of Accredited Schools

The community of Friday Harbor is located on San Juan Island which is accessible by way of the Washington State Ferries traveling a 35 mile stretch of water from the gateway community of Anacortes, WA. The remoteness of this small, rural high school of 252 students allows the community to be a strong supporter of the only public high school which is an offspring of it's more than 6,800 year round residents. As a seasonal tourist destination, Friday Harbor has a large middle class made up of retired as well as working class citizens. It has been noted as having one of the lowest earned income levels and highest educational levels of any county in the state of Washington. The median household income is $64,753. Band Families & Friends, SJI Service Scholarship, Purple & Gold Booster Club and San Juan Public Schools Foundation are a sampling of some community based organizations that participate in the success of our student body.
